High School Board Election
Harry Baker and Earl Diehl were re-elected to the high school board of education for a term of three years without competition. Forty-one ballots were cast at the election.

Student Council Convention
The Illinois Association of Student Councils will meet at the Congress Hotel in Chicago on Friday and Saturday, April 24 and 25. Ralph Hudson, president-elect for the local Student Council, Helen Franklin, vice-president-elect for the local student council, and Jean Allen will represent the students of the Mount Morris high school at the state convention. Mr. Hoff, the student council advisor will accompany these representatives to the convention. The students will go to Chicago on Friday morning on the train and return Saturday afternoon on the Zephyr.

Ralph Hudson will be one of the representatives on the Constitution committee. He will meet with the committee in the Congress Hotel at 11 o'clock, Friday, April 24th. This will be the ninth annual meeting for the state student council convention. The first meeting was held in the spring of 1934 at the Bloom high school with 12 representative schools present. In the spring of 1941, there were 123 schools represented and a total of 600 delegates at Springfield, Ill. It was decided at the convention last year that the representation was too large to hold the convention in any high school in the state and as a result recommended to hold the convention this year in a hotel at Chicago. This will be the first state convention for student councils to be held in this manner. The general theme of this year's convention will be "Youth's Responsibility to the School, the Community, and the State."

Responsibility in the school deals with the local problem. Sufficient time will be given to the discussion of school problems and reports of successful activities. Responsibility in the community will bring out the student council's connection with civic life. This will introduce civilian defense and other forms of civic progress.

Responsibility in the state deals with ways of improving our state Student Council Association. It is the goal of the state officers to make the Illinois Association of Student Councils lasting and beneficial organization. To accomplish this, the officers hope to get the full support of the members and the representatives from the various schools in the state.

The local representatives will receive considerable benefit from this conference and hope to bring back new ideas to the local student council. The highlight of the convention will be on Friday evening at the annual banquet in the Gold Room of the Congress Hotel. An excellent speaker will discuss many problems within our schools and give some splendid advice for the representatives from the various schools.

"All-American Tunes" is the title of the annual grade school production which will be given on Friday night, May 1, in the high school gymnasium. The program consists of various types of music by American composers, from Stephen Foster's "Oh, Suzanna" to Hoagy Carmichael's "Stardust." An array of costumes and lighting effects will add to the charm of the music.

Each grade will be represented in the actual singing, and most every child will have some part in the production.

Flight School Costing $5,000,000 Authorized

Washington, April 17—(AP)—The war department has authorized construction of an air force flight school in Lawrence county, Ill., and Vincennes, Ind., at a cost "in excess of $5,000,000." Rep. Arnold (D-Ill.) and Rep. Landis (R-Ind.) announced yesterday.

Contracts for architecture-engineering services have been negotiated with the firm of Miller & Yeager, Terre Haute, Ind., and Berrington-William, Inc., Indianapolis, they said.

Brig. Gen. Royce's Spectacular Raids Stimulating Corps

Morale of Youngsters in Air Service Pepped to Peak of Pride

Washington, April 17—(Wide World)—Brig. Gen. Ralph Royce did a bigger job for this country than just wreck four Jap bases in that surprise bomber raid on the Philippines from Australia.

He gave thousands of American Air Corps cadets a war-time tonic described by brother officers here as "hell-fire and brimstone". The morale of every youngster in the service, they said, has been pepped to a peak of pride, spunk, confidence, and combat spirit.

The psychological lift was contagious. Australian newspapers say Royce's feat cut through a long run of bad news with a clear call to courage among United Nations' troops—and struck a heavy note of dismay in axis camps which at last have learned the allied powers can strike back at great distance.

Royce has had a gift for inspiring men since the moment he entered the air service during his second year out of West Point, in 1915. Men admire him, like him, and trust him.

The citation on the Croix de Guerre he won in the last war reads — "commanding the 1st American observation escadrille, he insisted on making the first reconnaissance over the enemy lines himself. He gave his pilots an admirable example of dash and interdict."

Rocked "Hot Shots"

Back in 1920, when he commanded the country's only primary flying school at Carlstrom Field, Ala., he rocked Air Corps hot shots back on their heels by giving their personal planes to the cadets. In those days the very few distinguished flying officers had their own aircraft and crews. The cadets got any old crate left. Royce walked out into one early dawn to find a youngster trying to get his doubtful ship in shape for the air. Royce climbed aboard, flickered around a while and came back disgusted.

"Here", he told the wide-eyed cadet, "you take my plane and I'll use this trap of yours".

The general is a barrel-chested, big-nosed battler from Marquette, Mich., and almost bald. He is built like a bomber. His shoulders and thighs are iron-hard muscle even at the age of 52 years. He stands 5-feet-7 and packs a good 200 pounds of punch equal to the best of the younger men in his command.

Republicans to Talk Over Fall Campaign in Three Day Confab

Chicago, April 17—(AP) The congressional fall campaign will be discussed by about 70 members of the Republican national committee at a three-day conference beginning Sunday.

Werner W. Schroeder, committeeman from Illinois, said the group also planned to discuss the affairs of the many GOP party's committees.

He said Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., (R-Mass.) committee chairman; Clarence Buddington Kelland, Arizona committeeman; Mrs. Worthington Scranton from Pennsylvania, and Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio would attend.

The conference will open Sunday with a luncheon followed by a buffet supper at Schroeder's home for committee members and Republican state officials.

Long, artificial noses were worn by French doctors in 1720 during an illness plague. The noses were filled with spices—and were supposed to purify the air, thus immunizing the physicians.

Money in circulation in the U. S. in February averaged $85.67 per person, a new high record.

"Go tell my disciples I go before them into Galilee; there shall they see me." Matthew 28:10.

Those who are saying "Let's get back to Christ" may be wrong. A leader is not behind, but before his followers. Let us then hasten that we may come into DeKalb, Lee and LaSalle counties, and there shall we see Him if we truly seek Him.

Presbyterian Church

J. Edward Dirks, pastor.

10:00 o'clock, Sunday school.

11 o'clock, Morning worship.

Daniel Webster once said, "Let us not forget the religious character of our origin. Our fathers were brought here by their high veneration for the Christian religion. They journeyed by its right and labored in its hope. They sought to incorporate its principles with the elements of their society and to diffuse its influence through all their institutions. Let us cherish these sentiments and extend this influence still more widely, in the full conviction that this is the happiest society which partakes in the highest degree of the spirit of Christianity."

Christianity and democracy stem from the same root. Tyranny has always been the enemy of Christianity and democracy cannot live apart from Christian principles. The chief assets of a nation are centered in the moral character of its citizens. Why not accept the invitation to come to church next Sunday?

6:45 o'clock, Tuxis meeting. The church invites you.

licious refreshments to those attending.

Chicago Ridge School Teacher is Acquitted

Chicago, April 17—(AP)—Miss Gertrude Fitzgerald, Chicago Ridge school teacher who was charged with disorderly conduct after she allegedly declined to consent to dismissal from her job, won acquittal from a suburban Willow Springs jury yesterday.

The 30-year-old teacher contended she had not been dismissed and stated that President William J. Walsh of the school board, who swore out the warrant against her, had agreed to allow her to finish the school term.

Miss Fitzgerald, supported by the testimony of two ten-year-old students, said she taught her pupils to salute the flag. One of the complaints on which the disorderly conduct warrant was based was that she had refused to lead her pupils in pledges and salutes to the flag.

WANTS OIL ORDER CHANGED

Washington, April 17—(AP)—Representative Arnold (D-Ill.) in the house yesterday urged modification of orders limiting the drilling of new oil wells to one for each forty-acre tract. Arnold said limitation was particularly harmful to Illinois operators because oil in that area normally was found in small pools requiring extensive drilling.

DOUGLAS PLEDGES AID

First NYA Pennant Goes to Signal Hill Center

Chicago, April 17—(AP)—The first pennant of honor to be awarded monthly to the defense project whose contribution to the war effort is considered best among the 80 NYA training centers went to the NYA Signal Hill war production training center at Belleville.

Miss Mary Stuart Anderson, state youth administrator, in making the announcement yesterday said the Belleville project won the award on the basis of efficient use of facilities, placement of youth in jobs, production, safety, morale, initiative, new ideas and cooperation.

The center placed 125 youths out of an average enrollment of 435 in private defense work during March, Miss Anderson said.

A Thought for Today
And I will bring the land into desolation; and your enemies which dwell therein shall be astonished at it.—Leviticus 26:32.

The object of punishment is prevention from evil; it never can be made impulsive
to good.—Horace Mann.

Victory Gardens
If planting Victory Gardens will strengthen our resistance to our enemies, Dixon citizens are already enrolled in that line of defense. Gardens for victory are already on the way and many more being planned. Rural families of the community are putting out bigger plots too. City consumers have a stake in these gardens also. The more vegetables farmers raise and store and can, that many more will be upon the store counters for city families.
Enough Victory Gardens and careful planning and organization on a community basis will make whole small towns self sufficient and aid materially in making up for shortage in large places.
The Victory Garden committee is much pleased with the cooperative gardens that are being put out.
Friends and neighbors are pooling resources and garden plots and renting available lots near town and putting out gardens. This type of thing produces more than food. It fosters a spirit of fellowship, provides a means of wholesome recreation and gives the children a chance to help.

If you have a good garden spot on your own lot where the soil has been productive, use that, but it is not the intention of our government that seeded lawns be spaded up for garden production. This does not preserve the beauty of our city and it will be difficult to return them to grass again. The friendly spirit of sharing with our neighbors lots that are in condition for planting will go much farther in bringing the desired results. Many lots which last year were producing only weeds and were a menace to public spirited citizens should be used this year for profitable purposes, both to our community and the nation. Dixon children are very much interested and already plans are being made by patriotic citizens to make it possible for them to carry out their inherent American patriotism.
We've made a splendid start. Let's keep it up.

That Lives May Be Saved
Knowledge of first aid methods, learned in a CCC camp, enabled a Cleveland youth to save the life of a young woman seriously injured in a traffic accident.
Similar knowledge, now being acquired by thousands of men and women in Red Cross classes throughout the country, may save many lives in a like manner, even though those taking the courses as a war measure never see an air-raid or serve in combat zones.

Today's Silver Lining
Looking for silver linings, as most of us are nowadays, there is one in the bad news about gasoline.
If we had tires to burn with casual running around, the new cut in deliveries to dealers would hurt. But actually it shouldn't make much difference. Two-thirds of a normal supply of gas ought to be more than we should use, so long as the preservation of tires remains a duty of patriotism. So let's find something else to worry about.

Sanitariums are places where people who are run down wind up.

Fighter planes are the best de-

British have found. During the heavy air attacks on England in 1940, British fighters shot down nearly ten times as many German bombers as did anti-aircraft guns.
Not counting the new victory
program, more than four billion dollars had been allocated for construction of warplanes for the U. S. Army Air Forces. During World War I money spent on mili-

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, April 17.—Whether the Japs will accept the invitation implied in India's weakness is a matter for reconsidered speculation.
From a political standpoint
they have about as much chance of subduing the whole of India as the ants have of reducing the Rocky Mountains.

From a military standpoint they could get a temporary measure of control by the occupation of a few road entrances leading into the endless interior.

Occupation of Calcutta, Madras, Ceylon and Bombay would give them at least a hold on the pulses
of the country.
If they tried to go into the interior they would encounter problems several times as extensive as those which they have not yet conquered in China.

They can get the industry of the country by an even simpler process of occupying everything around Calcutta.

But they cannot get the people.
The Indians are great passive resisters, the best in the world. The resisting they have done to the British will be nothing to what they will do to the Japs.

Their passivity can be expected to be even more devastating against the kind of oppression
which the Japs will bring them, than against hegemony which the British exercised.

Certainly one good thing the Japs need now is to be stuck on two boundless flypapers, instead of one as in China. That is what they will get if they go in, and the Japanese general staff cannot be unaware of it.

The sell-out of Petai, which raises Laval to the active directorship of what is left of the French nation, was a typically unfathomable French political transaction to me.

If Petai had heard about the bad situation in India and had been perturbed about the bombing of Malta, he might have dropped a word in official sources
indicating his transformation.
He did not.

As it came, the news was an utter shock to Washington. They had plenty of advance notice that the French fleet might be lost piece by piece in dribbles, but they had no indication that the French people might take over the destiny of France and of our diplomatic objective there.

What Laval will do can only be judged by his acts not by the forecast of his ability. The natural expectation is that he will trade the French fleet over to the nazis, ship by ship, for what he can get. That is his way.

Laval is first and last a French politician. In recent years he has violently hated the British. He is reported to have said only a few months ago:

"For my program to succeed, the British must be crushed."
While he's anti-British he is not pro-anything except pro-Laval.
Laval is his great love. He realizes that to push Laval ahead
now requires the help and support of Hitler, and Laval will do what is required to get it.

If you try to catch Laval you are catching a snake, and what you need is a noose and no deductions.

Roosevelt really tore Jesse Jones apart, in an innocuouslooking executive order last Tuesday. The announcement was so technical and complicated, observers gave it up as a too complicated job (and not a very important one either).

But Milo Perkins, Vice President Wallace's executive in charge of the War Economics Board, interpreted it as giving him such broad grants of power he could hardly believe what the order
said. He was left breathless
but important.

The order gave the Board of Economic Warfare authority to prosecute the war in any way it saw fit, and to Perkins, that meant "ME".

The Board of Economic Warfare, constantly nursed along by Vice President Wallace, has been growing unnoticed. Its engulf-ment of the hitherto all-powerful Jesse Jones is thought by wise
observers to be only the start.
Other agencies may soon disappear into Wallace's organization.

Dixon Circle—Dixon circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., will meet in G. A. R. hall at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

A. F. & A. M.—Thursday evening added another to the long list of enjoyable occasions at the Brinton Memorial Masonic Temple. At 6:30 the members of Friendship lodge, No. 7, A. F. &
A. M. and their ladies enjoyed a dinner served by the ladies of the Corinthian White Shrine of Jerusalem. The dining hall was completely filled with 210 members of the Masonic fraternities and their guests from Dixon and vicinity.

The evening program of entertainment was heard in the lodge hall. The entertainers were the famed Acacia male quartet of Chicago, presenting a varied program in three separate sections, and providing their own instrumentation accompaniments. From the beautiful blending of four skilled and experienced voices to the customed mirth-making renditions,
an appreciative audience gave audible evidence of their approval.

Two intermissions in the program, each of an approximate 15 minutes duration afforded ample time for the necessary costume
adaptations, from the barber shop quartet, depicted as under the mild influence, to the presentation of grand opera as it should not be.

During the first intermission, L. W. Miller took his auditors on an imaginary pilgrimage to Whittier land and the scene of Snowbound, stressing the philosophy of life of the poet by numerous recitations of portions of his poems.

The second intermission period was occupied by Glen F. Coe with the salutation to the flag, with a brief address, emphasizing earnestness and sincerity of purpose
in both retrospect and prospect.
He said:

"If fraternal teachings had been lived in foreign lands during bygone years, it is more than possible that the present world chaos
might have been avoided."

The evening of pleasure and profit was sponsored by Friendship lodge, No. 7, A. F. & A. M.
through the endeavors of Worshipful Master Charles N. A.
Richards with members of the lodge assisting, and is now a memory of satisfaction.

MRS. HERMAN FRIEDRICHS

Mrs. Herman Friedrichs, formerly of Harmon and Palmyra townships, passed away at her home, 509 Eleventh avenue, Sterling, at 10:30 o'clock Thursday night after an illness of two weeks duration, the last nine days of which she was bedfast. Fun-

Mrs. Friedrichs was born in Ol-enburg, Germany, Jan. 11, 1859, coming to the United States at the age of 21. She was married in February, 1888 and she and her husband started farming in Harmon township, later moving to Palmyra, where they resided until 1921, when they retired to move to Sterling.

She was preceded in death by her husband, March 23, 1941, and ten sisters, being the last of a family of eleven girls. She is survived by two sons, Fred and Harry, both of Palmyra township;

JANICE ARLENE GILROY
Janice Arlene Gilroy, eight-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gilroy, who reside west of Franklin Grove on the Lincoln Highway, expired this morning at about 6 o'clock, while the parents were bringing her to the Dixon public hospital. The child is believed to have strangled before it could be removed to the hospital, suffering from pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy fearing that the child's condition was quite critical, placed her in a car and started for the hospital
about 6 o'clock this morning.
Upon their arrival in Dixon, the child's condition had become much worse and they went to the city hall where they notified
members of the police department, who upon examining the small child, believed that it had expired. Patrolman J. E. McIntire accompanied the parents to the hospital while other officers summoned a physician, who pronounced the child dead upon examination at the hospital.

Deputy Coroner Paul Sodergren
empaneled a jury this morning and arranged for the inquest to be held at the city hall at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The body was removed to the Hicks funeral home at Franklin Grove and the hour of the funeral was to be announced later.

FRANTIC WEEKEND
BY EDMUND FANCOTT

THE STORY: Returning to Montreal from a summer resort,
Myra Mack shares a train seat
with Lieut. Nigel Monkhouse.
They discover a mutual friend in Ferdie Lorton, artist, and a mutual admission of a pretty girl aboard
the train. Back at her stenographer's job Myra makes a business
call, sees the pretty girl behind a desk.

FERDY PLANS A PARTY
CHAPTER III

THAT evening Myra dropped in to see Ferdie Lorton on her way home. It was a peculiar friendship that drew the two together, a friendship that owed more to frankness than to good looks. Ferdie had an amused cynical outlook towards the world
and knew everybody in town.
Myra had an outspoken bluntness and was thoroughly capable at everything she undertook. Ferdie
was a confirmed bachelor who seemed to be particularly attractive to attractive females, whereas Myra was more or less resigned to the fact that her face was not her fortune and that she was by necessity a career girl.

She found Ferdie alone buried in a book.
"Hello," he said, pleasure registering under his casual tone. "Have a cocktail. You've been neglecting me."

Myra looked around the studio.
"Not painting?" she asked.

Ferdie rummaged in his cupboard for the makings of a cocktail. "No," he answered over his shoulder. "The weather is too good. I'm thinking of packing up and heading me to the hills."

"Some frivolous people get all the luck," sighed Myra, throwing a hat that she disliked onto the comfortable settee.

Ferdie grinned. "All work and
no play?"

"Too much work. By the way,
I had a weekend on the lake shore
and met a friend of yours."

Ferdie shook up the cocktail
with a professional vigor.
"Name?"

"Nigel Monkhouse."
"Thought he was up in Petawawa."

"So he was," said Myra. "But now he's on leave before going overseas."

"Nice chap," said Ferdie. "I must give him a call."
"Is he married?" asked Myra.

Ferdie poured out a cocktail and looked at her with a suspicious grin. "No. You haven't any designs?"

Myra grinned. "I'd have as much chance there as I would with a plaster statue. Besides, he was looking pretty hard at a peaches and cream something on the train."

"Poor Nigel," said Ferdie. "Plenty of money. Charm. But he had a bad time with one of our Montreal deers a year or so ago."

"Then he's recovering nicely,"
said Myra.

"Not thinking of doing more matchmaking?" asked Ferdie. "He sat down by her side on the settee and disposed himself in lazy comfort."

and I'd rather see a new face or two."

"Good," said Ferdie. "We'll ask Nigel Monkhouse. Haven't you got a few more sisters in the family?"

"There's Peggy, but she's dynamite."

"That's the young one I haven't met. What do you mean, dynamite?"

"Well she's only seventeen, the kind of poison that puts frogs in your bed and burrs in your pyjamas."

Ferdie nodded. "She'll do."
"No," said Myra. "My brother
has just come home from overseas.
We can't go."

"Ask him too. That's three men, two girls. I'll find another girl."

"No," said Myra firmly. "No more weekends for me at your place with any of your social friends. Remember the last time.
Society and Myra Mack are like oil and water. They don't mix, even at high temperatures."

"All right," said Ferdie. "We'll take peaches and cream. Has she a face worth painting?"

Myra sat up. "If you think I am going to go and pick up a strange female to make a Lorton

Ordinance Plant Group Holds Its First Party

Some 250 Guests Turn Out for Stuff and Shuffle "Mixer" at Loveland Community House

Strains of Irving Berlin's stirring song, "God Bless America," rang like a bugle through the dining room of the Loveland Community House last evening . . . "from the mountains, to the prairies, to the oceans, white with foam," the song went—and perhaps that phrase, more concisely than any other, tells part of the story of the singers, who are being brought together in Dixon from points east, west, north and south, caught up in the currents of war.

Into the Rock river valley during the past few weeks has moved a surge of migrant workers, whose contribution toward their country's victory over the Axis is establishment of a vast war production center. And so, last evening, Hoosiers, Wolverines and Hawkeyes were rubbing elbows and exchanging goodnatured banter with natives of the Creole, Prairie, Blue Grass and Lone Star states—as well as intervening sections—at the delightfully informal Stuff and Shuffle that brought employees of the Green River Ordnance plant, their wives and husbands together for the first of a series of similar "mixer" parties.

Dixon's beautiful civic center, with its wide sweep of lawn lying lush like great splashes of green velvet after a refreshing April shower in the late afternoon, was admired by scores of party-goers in the early evening. As time for the 7 o'clock dinner approached, the crowd in the lounge and corridor swelled rapidly, and by the time the last identification card was pinned to the shoulder of later-comers, the huge throng was estimated to number well over 250.

Last evening's event had more than a few martial overtones. For instance, there were majors in uniforms, and conversation was colored with frequent references to the subject uppermost in the minds of everyone whose consciousness has been battered by dark news from abroad. (Nevertheless, everyone was in party mood and thoroughly enjoying the opportunity to learn new names and meet new faces).

The big dining room itself was in patriotic dress, with tiny American flags placed at intervals on the long tables. At the speakers' table, where covers were indicated for Toastmaster and Mrs. W. A. Rhodamel and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. H. Schrader, a medley of red carnations, white stocks and blue cornflowers echoed the patriotic motif. Red and white flowers were the centerpiece on the other tables, with deep V's of red and white crepe paper to each place.

It was at the suggestion of W. A. Rhodamel, personnel director, that the guests raised their voices in the song, "God Bless America," being played at the piano by Edward Tucherfarber.

"It looks like the pioneers have come back," Mr. Rhodamel remarked, explaining that the gathering together of the group he was representing is "merely a gathering of pioneers from all sections, just as pioneers in the early days sought a place with plenty of water and timber."

"In building an army plant," he continued, "let us remember that only a per cent of the combat forces ever see the front lines. It is your privilege to manufacture certain kinds of materials that will see 100 per cent service in the front lines."

"We must sacrifice everything we have to help the boys in the trenches, if we are to continue to enjoy a democratic form of government," declared Major C. G. Tolson, commanding officer. "We must realize that the war is pretty close to our door," he warned.

C. W. H. Schrader, resident manager for the Simmons, Hazlet and Erdal company, first of the war workers to move his household to Dixon, described the task ahead for all war workers as "just one big job—to get the shells to the boys across the water." Referring to construction of the Green River Ordnance plant, to be completed within the year, he declared: "Let's go! We can do it!"

Representing the architectural and engineering department, Craig P. Hazlet expressed appreciation for the hospitality the newcomers are finding in Dixon, and promised wholehearted cooperation in accomplishing the work ahead "with as little disruption as possible." "It's our job to give the boys in the front lines the ability to talk to the Axis in the only language it understands," was the way he put his challenge to Berlin and Tokyo.

Major George Underdown's brief and humorous remarks sent his audience into waves of laughter. Afterward, Mr. Rhodamel commented that when he first heard the area engineer's surname, he was wishing it might be "Up-and-Over," but has since decided that it could well be "Up-and-Down, Up-and-Over, and All-Around."

H. D. Tousley spoke for the construction maintenance department, and Mr. Erdal also was introduced. The plant, when in production, "will throw a lot of iron into the air—at the Japs and others," was the promise made by William Steinwedell, manager of the Stewart-Warner corporation, operators.

When Mr. Rhodamel prefaced his introductions with an invitation for Dixon employees at the plant to "take a bow," the handful of townspeople present were besieged with a chorus of inquiries concerning "can you tell us where we can find a place to live?"

A query about how many states are actually represented at the plant brought the reply: "Oh, 48—at least."

Last evening's party was planned (and financed) by the plant employees. And it was planned with everything for the guests' enjoyment in mind, with Deb Henry's orchestra from Rockford entertaining the dancers from 9:30 until 12:30.

Special numbers included accordion solos by Dorothy Fruin, and vocal selections by Mrs. Joyce Hamilton. Alternating at the piano were Edward Tucherfarber, George Youngman, and Frank Gorman.

His co-workers regretted that the plant's All-American football player, Paul Noubert, was called east and could not be present last evening.

Among the guests enjoying the affair was John Lloyd Wright, son of the world-famous architect, Frank Lloyd Wright, who, ironically enough is probably best known for his work on the earthquake-proof imperial palace at Tokyo, and the Johnson Wax building in Racine, Wis. Horizontal projection is the outstanding characteristic of the distinguished architect's work.

The good-looking programs, (with the message "to Japan, G. R. O. P. (Green River Ordnance Plant)" attached in postscript fashion to a huge projectile shooting skyward from an ominous 155 M-M howitzer, decorating the covers), were the skillful work of S. L. Smith.

Composing the executive committee for the party were Major Tolson, Byron T. Curry, L. S. McLeod, and K. M. Hindley. Special committees included:

Tickets, programs, posters, and identification cards, R. W. Rice; entertainment, Lois Gerder and Theodore Summers; auditorium and dining room, Viola Stroup; catering service, decorations and menu, Mrs. Elsie Ritzman; arrangements for hostesses, Ruth Crombie; finances, Bernie J. Gronski; hostesses, Mesdames C. W. H. Schrader, R. W. Rice, John McLane, H. G. Bredfeldt, Millard Sigal, L. S. McLeod, Claud Saunders, Paul Lampkin, G. M. Hindley, C. R. Ziwas, George Leonard, R. B. Plummer, C. G. Tolson, Ward G. Swartz, Charles Heckman, W. A. Rhodamel, H. D. Tousley, and Miss Minnie Trogolo; guards, Robert Cagle and Grant Hayden.

ADDRESS BY WOMAN ATTORNEY OF DIXON IS HIGHLIGHT OF WOMEN'S CLUB CONVENTION

Writing a World Peace treaty before World War II is won, to eliminate the possibility of repeating the mistake this country made after the first World war was won—permitting other nations to dictate the peace terms—was advocated by Mrs. Edwin W. Merrick, Jr., young Dixon attorney and Woman's club member, in her address to some 200 members of the 13th District Federation of Women's clubs, meeting in convention yesterday at Rock Falls.

Mrs. Merrick, who heads the American citizenship and international relations department of the Dixon Woman's club, and whose address highlighted the convention program, delved into the logic and philosophy of ancient Greece for the basis of her suggestion to unite individual nations into a union. Such a union, she said, was described by Greek philosophers, but were denounced by their countrymen, who later came to ruin because they failed to adhere to the philosophy of the learned Socrates and Plato.

Allegiance to a third government, a world-wide body, is both practicable and possible, Mrs. Merrick believes, in view of the fact that citizens of the United States have already learned to lend wholehearted support to two separate forms of government—state and federal.

The preamble of such a world constitution, the speaker explained, would be patterned after that of the United States, by rewording only the first line to read: "We, the people of the world. . ."

Women's clubs from Carroll, Jo Daviess, Lee, Ogle, Stephenson and Whiteside counties were represented at the sessions, held in the Rock Falls Methodist church. Mrs. D. C. Thompson of Compton, district president, presided.

Presidents of the six counties comprising the district organization, including Mrs. Harry Patterson of Franklin Grove, Lee county president composed the nominating committee. They submitted recommendations for election of the following officers:

Vice president, Mrs. Adam Kraus, Galena; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry L. Carbaugh; treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Spring, Leaf River. Changes in by-laws were adopted on recommendation of Mrs. L. N. Deutch of Dixon, chairman of the resolutions committee.

The Dixon club's entry in Class D (clubs with memberships of 200-350, submitted by Mrs. W. B. Richardson, historian, won first honors in its division, and is eligible for judging at the Illinois Federation scrapbook contest to be held in connection with the state federation convention in Chicago, May 11-14.

Other clubs winning recognition in the scrapbook contest were: Class A (under 50 members), Prophetstown, first; Paw Paw, second; Thomson, third; Class B — (50-100 members), Compton, first; Mt. Morris, second; Franklin Grove, third; Class C — (100-200 members), Galena, first; Polo, second; Sterling, third; Class E — (350-500 members), Freeport, first.

In the Junior division of the contest, Prophetstown won first, and the Dixon Junior Woman's club ranked second. Eighteen scrapbooks in all were inspected by the jury of judges.

Mrs. Peter F. Dietz, president of the hostess club, welcomed the

Miss Anne Mulkins Is Bride in Boise

Mrs. Marie Mulkins of 341 Chamberlin street is making known the marriage of her eldest daughter, Anne, to William K. Short, youngest son of the C. J. Shorts of 610 Dixon avenue, Rock Falls. The ceremony was solemnized on Saturday, April 4, in Boise, Idaho, with the Rev. Thomas Acheson performing the double ring ceremony at the parsonage of the Methodist church.

Baskets of calla lilies and gladioli decorated the improvised altar for the nuptial service. The couple chose to be unattended, and the only witnesses were the bridegroom's mother and Mrs. Acheson.

The bride wore a two-piece suit in aqua and brown tones, with matching accessories. Gardenias formed her shoulder corsage.

Mrs. Short received her education in the Dixon schools, and has been employed for the past five years in the meter department of the Illinois Northern Utilities company. The bridegroom, who formerly attended the Rock Falls schools, was inducted into the army in November, 1941, and has been stationed in the medical corps at Pendleton, Oregon. He expects to be transferred soon to another post as an instructor.

GEMS OF THOUGHT FAITH

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

—Hebrews, 11:1.

Through love, through hope, and faith's transcendent power, we feel that we are greater than we know.

—Wordsworth.

All I have seen teaches me to trust the Creator for all I have not seen.

—Emerson.

Trust in Him whose love enfolds thee.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

Nothing in life is more wonderful than faith—the one great moving force which we can neither weigh in the balance nor test in the crucible.

—Harvey Cushing.

Faith and works are like the light and heat of a candle; they cannot be separated.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Good Living, Honesty and Sincerity
More Important Than Good Manners

Text: Luke 11:37-48, 52-54

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

Honesty and sincerity are at the very heart of true religious profession. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." If honesty and sincerity are in the heart there will be truth in words and actions.

Throughout the ages men have made profession of religion a cloak for much that has not been honest or sincere. Sometimes this arises from sheer hypocrisy. It may be socially advantageous to seem to be what one is not. To have a good reputation in the community may be greatly to one's interest, and if a man have not the root of the matter in him his religion may be a matter almost entirely of profession and very little of possession.

But not all who lack honesty and sincerity in their religious lives are at heart hypocrites. There are many for whom religion is a sort of convention; they accept without much thought formal teachings and formal practices and customs. With such acceptance there may be heartfelt sincerity. It would be a great mistake to imagine that those who are strict in outward practice are necessarily lacking in inward religion. But there is always the great danger that outward conformity may be emphasized without much regard for inward grace and righteousness.

When Jesus in the story in our lesson came into the home of a Pharisee who had invited Him to dinner, He sat down to eat without first washing His hands. This was an offense against the Jewish custom, and it was also so much at variance with a reasonable practice of cleanliness that one can only conclude that Jesus did it purposely because He sensed the pretentiousness of some of those who were present, and because He wanted to teach them a lesson. In strong language He stressed the fact that mere outward observance could not satisfy the real purpose of the law to which these Pharisees professed to be so devoted. He pointed out that there were Pharisees who tithed mint and rue and every herb, who were very strict about formal requirements, but who had no regard for justice or for the love of God. He took the view that they should observe the matters of the law, but that they ought not to leave the great and the more important things undone. He rebuked them for their love of place and praise. Surely a just rebuke from one who placed humility at the very heart of Christian virtues and attitudes!

One of those present, a lawyer—that is, a teacher of Jewish law, not a lawyer in our modern sense of the term—sought to justify himself but Jesus turned to him and reminded him that lawyers shared his rebuke in that they were wont to require from others what they would not do themselves.

The lesson is a plea for reality, such as is needed in every age. True Christianity is the foe of all pretentiousness and self-glorification and of all effort for self-interest or for some other cause of what is not really in one's heart and life. The demand of God is that we should be sincere and honest, and that we should exercise wisdom, when we profess love to God and love to man, in determining what is just and right and not merely what is expedient or according to a custom. It is an excellent thing to have good manners, but good manners are not a substitute for good living.

Rev. Fisk's pictures give a comprehensive view of his work among the famous "wild men" of Borneo. Many striking scenes are shown, such as the precarious descent of a missionary party down the treacherous rapids of a swift flowing Borneo river; also the impressive occasion at which time the Christian natives, former headhunters, throw their entire collection of enemy skulls in the river as a testimony to their faith in Jesus Christ.

Rev. Fisk has worked in Borneo since 1929. He returned to the Closing of Hennepin Canal Is Opposed by Conservation Dept.

Springfield, Ill., April 16—(AP)—The state conservation advisory board has adopted a resolution opposing the threatened closing of the Hennepin canal, along its entire 75-mile length between Rock Island and Bureau, under an order by army engineers issued to protect the canal's locks from sabotage.

Conservation Director Livingston E. Osborne brought the attention of the advisory board, headed by L. H. Barkhausen of Chicago, to protests against banning of the canal known in the northwestern section of Illinois as "Fishermen's Paradise" to anglers.

The board passed a resolution recommending that the department of conservation cooperate with the U. S. army engineers in all reasonable ways to help maintain open fishing in all areas of the canal which will not endanger locks, dams or other structures which must be protected in the war period.

The canal offers diversion to large numbers of defense workers in the Rock Island-Moline area, Osborne pointed out.

First interest in a canal across Panama was manifested in 1825 when Henry Clay, then U. S. secretary of state, ordered a survey made of the route.

LETTER-MEN . . . at a general assembly in the high school auditorium this morning, basketball awards were presented to the players, managers and cheer-leaders . . . Coach L. E. Sharpe and Asst. Coach Clem Lindell gave brief messages of appreciation to the squad of 1942 . . . Bernie Callahan and Lois Blimbing also gave short talks representing the student body's reply to the Dukes' unusual and brilliant achievements during the past season . . . major letters were awarded to . . . Cyril Shank . . . Frank Leeper . . . Paul Reynolds . . . Jo VanMeter . . . John Loftus . . . Walter Knack, Jr. . . Bryce Hubbard . . . Harold Salzmann . . . Ozzie Zimmerman . . . and Frederic Howard . . . honorary co-captains elected for this year's squad were Cy Shank . . . Jo VanMeter . . . and Paul Reynolds . . . minor awards were given to the following Frosh-Soph squad members . . . William Goff . . . Theodore Mason . . . Robert Marshall . . . Don Bowers . . . Roger Bivins . . . Robert Alexander . . . Robert Cramer . . . James Williams . . . Monte Miller . . . Donald Steder . . . John Walters . . . Dale Frey . . . and William Callahan . . . cheer-leaders given letters were . . . Charlene Enichen . . . Donna Hanneken . . . Pauline Bay . . . and Shirley Welch . . . and manager letters were awarded to . . . Bob Wentling . . . Harvie Ware . . . and George Hobber . . .

BANQUET BULLETIN . . . there are still some tickets left for the Dukes' banquet Monday night . . . this affair is not only open to the local public fans but also to those fans from out of town who might be interested in hearing some of Coach "Bud" Foster's ideas on basketball . . . we say this because some out of town coaches and their squad members have asked us if it would be possible for them to attend the banquet . . . indeed yes! Just as long as tickets remain for sale, anyone buying one can attend the dinner . . .

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE COMMENTS . . . the championship of the Commercial bowling league at the Dixon Recreation was all wrapped up and delivered to the Reynolds Wire bowlers before the yester eve sessions got started . . . so the main interesting race last night was for second place . . . Cahills, who have been riding along in second, took a jolting while the National Tea team won a slam event which tied up the second spot . . . the Sparky Fender team was last night's shining light as they topped off the high team series honors with a 2876 . . . proceeded to swipe the high team game for the evening with a 977 . . . then to add still more laurels to the Fender outfit, Venier, bowling for the Sparky team, rang up the high individual series with games of 203, 209 and 184 for a total of 596 . . . Moerschbacher and Shultz tied for the evening's high game honors at 214 . . . other high bowlers from last night's session were Hoelscher 200 . . . J. Smith 203 . . . Becker 205 . . . McCollum 200 . . .

CHAUFFEUR CIRCUIT CLATTER . . . the Distilled Water Ice Team deserves all the credit due a champ for the way in which they retaliated last night to win the title of the Chauffeur League . . . but still they must thank their "pardoners" in work, the Prince Ice Cream team, for the latter didn't allow the Walter Knack team one single breather . . . they shut them out completely . . . and the only way the Ice-men could have won the title was if Knacks lost three straight . . . and they did just that . . . nevertheless the Distilled team added further high lights to their title garnering . . . they rolled the evening's high series with a 2907 . . . and Hartman, their lead-off man, took the high game for the night with a 230 . . . the Rock Island Transfer topped off the high team game with a 1031 . . . Lessner, bowling for the Old Americans, turned in games of 195, 188 and 182 for the evening's high individual series with 565 . . . others cracking the pins for high counts were . . . Handy 199 . . . Black 192 and 194 . . . Hahn 195 . . . Devine 191 . . . and D. Hey 196 . . .

PLUM HOLLOW NOTES . . . we took a turn over the green hills and grassy fairways of Plum Hollow golf course yesterday afternoon and everything is in ship-shape order for the opening which is slated for this Sunday, April 19 . . . the close-cropped, thick-set grassy greens are in the slickest condition they've ever been . . . a little different treatment was used on them this year . . . last fall they were fertilized and then this spring received their top-dressings which makes them look like a million . . . three rows of new trees have been placed between Number 5, 6 and 7 fairways which adds a wonderful change to that old vacant lot appearance which used to adorn that section of the course . . . all the holes have new pins, done in black and white stripes and easily discernible . . . and the yellow flags on each pin seem to show up better than the old traditional red ones . . . the benches around the course have a new coat of white paint and even the interior of the club house glistens with a new lustre . . . so the course is all set for Sunday's opening and the sound of the yell "fore" . . . Frank Randall has announced that any boys who were members of Plum Hollow last season and who are now afraid to buy a membership because they're subject to military service before the summer is over can play all the golf they want to for absolutely nothing up until September . . . we'd say, a mighty fine gesture . . .

RAINED-OUT . . . yesterday was that weekly holiday time for the barbers and the bankers . . . we missed our calling . . . anyway we caught three of them on the Plum Hollow course going at it tooth and nail and letting the green chips with the clogged dirt fall where they may . . . Bankers George Knouse . . . and Joe Miller . . . and Danny Barber Strub were the culprits getting in some early season practice licks . . . George swiped the first hole by one stroke . . . we missed them then until the fifth pin loomed up and the fight was really on . . . Joe lifted an approach shot high into the air against the wind and aimed at almost a 40 degree angle below the green but he had the right dose on it for it curved around to fall just 10 feet short of the green, he was on in another stroke and plunked the pin for a par four . . . Danny drove straight to the green with his approach, easily understood, for he's a southpaw, and they're good regardless of how they look when swinging . . . he dropped his put for a par also . . . and George, well the poor fellow was across the rough about midway down the fairway and entirely out of the picture . . . this trio would have turned into quite a scrap at this juncture if the rain didn't begin to fall and they had to scamper fast to get back across the ditch before it filled with water . . .

ANOTHER DUCKS IN . . . since the "Wilt" Sox lost their third straight game to the battering "Brownies" another dejected Pale Horse fan has joined us in that fox hole . . . none other than William "Duke" Kennedy . . .

FROM NEW YORK . . . over the NEA service comes this one . . . Dick Murphy scored 21 points for Manhattan as City College eked out a 38-35 basketball victory . . . Murphy wanted to attend City College, but when he went to try out for the basketball team . . . he couldn't find the Beaver's gymnasium . . . so he decided to switch to Manhattan . . .

Reynolds Win Commercial Title; Ice-Men Grab Chauffeur's

Reynolds Coast To Easy Championship; Distilled Water Ice-Men Come From Behind To Win Chauffeurs' Circuit

Two bowling leagues finished their season's competition last night at the Dixon Recreation and two champs survive. The Reynolds Wire team walked off with the Commercial League title after an easy fashion. It was easy sailing for the Reynolds kегlers for they had cinched the title just a week ago; but still they widened their margin of wins last night in order to further prove that they're the champs.

The Chauffeurs & Helpers league provided the thrills of the night as the second place Distilled Water and Ice team came from behind to win the championship. They won their deciding advantage over the Hey Bros. team. And the previous first place parkers, Knacks, grabbed sorrow honors for themselves as they dropped three straight games to the Prince Ice Cream bowlers and finished just one game out of first.

Chauffeur League Characterized By Neck-and-Neck Race

In a climatic neck and neck race the Distilled Water Ice team just barely nosed into the lead to win the championship of the Chauffeurs and Helpers League. It was a race to the title right up to the very finish of the evening's matches; for the Walter Knack team needed only one to tie the league and two to cinch the title but they just couldn't manage to get either. The Prince Ice Cream bowlers shut out the Knack boys on three counts which put the latter in a second place finish only one game from the top.

The Distilled bowlers won their title by taking a two game win over the Hey Bros. team. Hartman paced the Distilled quintet to its title role by turning in a series count of 537. D. Hey bowled high for the Hey outfit with a total of 526.

The Walter Knack kегlers met their sad demise at the hands of the Prince Ice Cream team. At any time a win could have come which might have at least given them a tie for top honors but the Prince team warmed to the occasion by taking the first game with a high total of 1011 which the Knacks couldn't get near, the Ice cream lads repeated in the second but only with a short margin of 20 pins and then blacked-out the Knack team in the third by running in front with the breadth of 12 pins. Hughes led the slam victory of the Prince team with a series of 460. Holtzauer was high for the Knacks with a 475 count.

Even though the Old American five lost two games to the Keeshin Motor team, they finished in third place. The American boys won the first game but dropped the next two. Lessner led the American team with a score of 565. Black was high for the Keeshin Motor team with 546.

The Dohrn Transfer won two out of three from the Rock Island Transfer. The Rock Island bowlers won their third game by running up the grand total of 1031 points. Hawkins was high for the Dohrn team with a 44. E. Loeschler topped the Rock Island list with a 446.

Second Place Fight Provides Interest In Commercial Loop

The Reynolds Wire bowlers merely went through a two game routine victory last night for they had previously taken a guaranteed claim to the title of the Commercial League. The league's second spot ended up in a two way tie. Cahills, who did have sole possession to second honors, lost two games and the National Tea team won three which made the two spot a two way split.

The Reynolds team, after losing its first game to the Round-Up, came back to win two straight. Carl Becker turned in the high bowling for the champs with a series of 576. Moerschbacher held up the high end for the Round-Up with a count of 508.

The Sparky's Fenders outfit handed the Cahill team their rough treatment and tie for second by trouncing the latter in two games. Venier sparked the Fender kегlers with a series of 596 and J. Smith bowled leading honors for the Electrics with a 577 series.

The National Team won their tie for second by defeating the Coca Cola team in three games. Glenn Courtwright was high man for his tea outfit with a 566 series. Ortgiesen led the "Koks" with a series of 482.

After dropping the first game to the Budweiser Gardens, the Telegraph team came back strong to win the next two matches. The odd happening in this affair was the tie series count at the end of the three games, each team had rolled up 2738. "Friday" Shultz paved the way for the "Newsies" victory by sounding out the woods to the tune of a 520 score. Hahn led the Budweisers with 571.

BOB PASTOR AND JIMMY BIVINS TO MEET TONIGHT

Cleveland, April 17—(AP)—Tricky Bob Pastor, who hopes for another try at Joe Louis this summer, and slugger Jimmy Bivins, leading light heavyweight challenger, will be gunning for a knock-out in their 10-round scrap tonight.

Pastor is expected to step into the ring with about a five-pound weight advantage over his Cleveland Negro opponent, whose best ring weight has been a shade under 175 pounds. Bob, winner of 11 straight contests, is the favorite with 2 to 1 odds.

Win or lose in tonight's fight, Bivins is scheduled to fight Gus for the latter's title May 27, matchmaker Larry Adkins reported.

On the other hand, if Pastor were defeated, he would be eliminated from his No. 1 position for a crack at Joe Louis this summer.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, April 17—After every inning, Ted Williams visits the scoreboard at Fenway park to ask the keeper if anybody around the circuit hit any homers. . . . The turf committee of America, announcing that a goal of $2,000,000 has been set for racing's contribution to war relief, points out that this is to be "apart from such gifts as the public may choose to make, channeling through racing organizations" . . . Presumably, then, that rules out the Narragansett idea of running an extra race and contributing what the public donates that way.

Today's Guest Star—

Bill Shirley, Little Rock Arkansas Democrat: "Prospects at Memphis are so gloomy that Doc Prothro probably thinks he's still piloting the Phillies. The ex-doctor of dentistry will have to fill plenty of weak spots and 'pull' a few surprises if he expects his chicks to crash the southern loop's first division."

Robert Trent (not Bobby) Jones, the noted golf course architect, has turned his talents to designing army airports . . . He's doing away with hazards instead of creating them . . . Although the National A. U. boxing championships at Boston had the smallest entry list in years, the first night's gate was $4,938.25, a few hundred dollars more than in 1941. . . . Report from the still-city regions is that Jack Adams will become general manager of the Detroit-Indianapolis-Omaha hockey chain next winter and Eddie Goodfellow will manage the Red Wings.

Others named are Swing and Sway, Steel Heels, Bay Carse, Dandy Fox, Get Off, Ship Biscuit, Alessandro, Battle Colors, Inwego, Aonbar, Up the Creek, Bush-wacker, Royal Crusader, Martina Moscow 11, Joe Schenck, Technician and Signator.

Possible starters that bear watching are Jean Ferrante and Speedy, game but "dumb" Buckskin.

WE'RE SORRY!

But we are unable to receive any more WASTE PAPER UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE. Our storage space is exhausted.

The flow of paper to the mills has been in such volume that the mills are not able to unload the cars, and their facilities for converting the waste paper into the finished product are not great enough to handle the enormous volume brought about by the victory salvage campaign.

This does not mean, NOT TO SAVE SALVAGE MATERIALS. In a few weeks the mills will lift the present embargo and all waste material dealers will be able to resume shipments of paper.

We are buying Scrap Iron, Rags, Tires, Tubes, Metals, etc. But please, no more waste paper until we have room in our plant.

The waste paper campaign has gone over the top with a bang. At present save your paper at home, bundle and tie the newspapers and magazines, place all loose papers in cartons. We will be buying paper very soon.
